I TAKE great pleasure in presenting this catalogue to my customers and friends. I do not list a large collection, but such varieties that have been selected for their superiority in color, perfection of form, length and stiffness of stem, continuous blooming, etc. In the following selection the public taste is well satisfied. I aim to give prompt and careful attention. Prices are for divided field grown roots, pot grown bulbs or green plants. Either kind will give equally good results.

Terms—All retail orders are delivered prepaid.

Cash with order or in advance of shipment.

I guarantee all roots and plants to be healthy, and true to name. Having no control over them after delivery I do not guarantee them to live and thrive. They should be returned upon delivery if not satisfactory. As I desire to give satisfaction to all who have favored me with an order, notify me immediately of any error.

CULTURE OF DAHLIAS

The dahlia is one of the easiest of all flowers to cultivate and will produce more flowers than any other plant grown, flowering all summer and fall if the simple cultural directions are followed closely. They can be grown in any good garden soil, but if possible plant in an open sunny situation. Prepare the soil thoroughly by digging 12 to 18 inches deep in the fall, if possible, and again in the spring. Plant any time between April 20th and June 1st, digging holes six inches deep and from three to four feet apart. Then lay in the tuber flat on its side, the size of which makes no difference as long as it has one strong eye or sprout. Cover three inches deep, thus leaving the hole one half full, to be filled after plant comes up 6 to 8 inches above the ground.

As soon as the plant is large enough, cut out the top of it just above the second or third set of leaves, which causes the plant to grow a stout branch at the base of each of the four or six leaves left. Just as soon as the plants are up, the most important thing to do is to keep the soil loose and mellow by hoeing or cultivating once or twice a week and just as soon after each rain as the soil will permit. As soon as the buds appear stop all cultivation and give the bed a mulch of rotted manure, leaves, etc. Water the beds and plants thoroughly once or twice a week and specially during the dry weather. Tie each plant to a strong stake so it may have a strong support. To have the greatest success is to keep them growing as strong and sturdy as possible. Never allow the faded flowers to remain on the plant but cut them off with as much stem or stalk as you can. To have larger blooms it is necessary to disbud, leaving the center bud and taking off the side ones, leaving a stem approximately eighteen inches long. Dahlias will continue to bloom until a heavy frost kills the tops in late fall, after which the tops are cut off and the roots are dug and stored in a frost proof cellar or basement, covering with dry soil, sand or anything that will keep them from shriveling. Divide in the spring after the eyes begin to show.

DAHLIA SEED

ooOoo

Much pleasure can be derived from growing dahlia seeds. Dahlias grow very easily from seed. Plant early, then transplant after danger of frost. They will make large plants, the first year.

Great care has been exercised in the selection of these seeds. Their record speaks for themselves.

Seed artificially fertilized and gathered from the best varieties of Decorative Hybrid Cactus and Paeony Dahlias. 50 cents a package.

A limited amount of choice Pompon seeds, 75 cents per package.

DELPHINIUM SEED

I am offering a limited amount of choice delphinium seed selected from my new strain. They are unquestionably the world's highest attainment in delphinium. Large flowers, tall straight spikes. They come in all shadings of blue. Package 50 cents.

"The New Moon"

MY 1921 INTRODUCTION

MRS. F. C. BURNS*

A shell pink decorative, very striking, one of the best for all purposes, excellent habits. Very choice.
$1.50 each

PACIFIC GLOW*

An extraordinary large pink paeony dahlia, florets long and slightly twisted. Good for exhibition. A prize taker for the largest dahlia in the show.
$1.50 each

THE GRIZZLY*

A dark maroon red decorative; without a doubt this is one of the best and most prolific dahlias to date. Stems 3 feet long; plants grow 3 to 4 feet in diameter, flowers are extra large and reflexed which makes it attractive. One of my best. A rare novelty. A prize winner.
$2.50 each

(* My own introductions)

MEXICO*

An attractive red and yellow paeony; can be used for any purpose. Large flowers held on good stems.
$1.50 each

MRS. CARL SALBACH—(Salbach)

Carried away first honors in the D. S. of C. Trial Gardens and received an American Dahlia Society Certificate of Merit at their Trial Gardens at Storrs, Conn. Lavender pink decorative in color. The immense blooms are held erect on long, good stems. A perfect cut flower and exhibition variety.
$3.50 each

LA FAVORITA—(Lohrmann)

A true salmon colored decorative dahlia. This is indeed a fine flower with all good habits. A prize winner.
$2.50 each

MRS. W. E. ESTES—(Estes)

The best white dahlia in cultivation, a large hybrid decorative, flowers are held on good stems and noted for size, very striking.

SUNSHINE—(Kessing)

A bright flame red decorative, a color very seldom seen in dahlias, slightly flushed with yellow; flowers are very deep, held on good stems. Another Californian that is becoming very popular.
$1.50 each

(* My own introductions)

PRINCESS PAT—(McWHIRTER)

A magnificent new decorative variety of a glorious shade of old rose. Flowers are very large and perfectly formed, growing well above the foliage on long, stiff, erect stems, 3 to 4 feet long, the best variety of its color in cultivation. Has good keeping qualities and in great demand as a cut flower. Won first prize for the best 25 blooms at the San Francisco Dahlia Show last year.

$2.50 each

CALIFORNIA ENCHANTRESS—(Bessie Boston)

A monster bloom of great substance and a delightful shade of pale pink. Hybrid cactus are greatly in demand because of their size and erect stems. This has both these admirable qualities, combined with freedom in flowering. This dahlia made good last fall wherever it was shown, and has been ordered heavily by amateurs and growers who saw it in our display garden.

$3.00 each

MABEL B. TAFT—(Bessie Boston)

New decorative. The coloring is novel, yellow, suffused with pinkish apricot, lighter in the center and shading deeper towards the outer petals. The very large flower has good depth and is composed of small, peculiarly shaped petals which give it refinement as well as beauty. It is particularly lovely under artificial light. Stems are long and absolutely stiff and straight. As a cut flower, it has most unusual lasting qualities.

$2.50 each

GEO. WALTERS—(Carter)

One of the most beautiful hybrid cactus type. Bright salmon pink, artistically suffused with old gold. A wonderful bearer. The flowers are large and held on long stiff stems. Geo. Walters received the gold medal at the P.-P. I. E., San Francisco, 1915.

75cts. each

DR. H. TEVIS—(Pelicano)

A decorative of enormous size. Flowers measure 9 to 11 inches in diameter, held erect on long stiff stems, a pretty shade of salmon rose, suffused with old gold. A rare novelty. $1.00 each

PRIDE OF CALIFORNIA—(Lohrmann)

A large red decorative that cannot be beaten; very large flowers, held on extra good stems, very prolific and an exceptionally good keeper. Fine for garden and exhibition. $1.00 each

A SPECIAL OFFER ON POMPON DAHLIAS

These produce small compact flowers perfectly formed, reminding one of a miniature show dahlia. Very attractive. Unequaled for cutting and garden display. 35 cents each. 12 different varieties $3.00.

The dahlias that are listed herein are responsible for me being awarded 1st prize (Trophy Cup) on Best 12 California Dahlias at the Dahlia Society of California Shows 1917, 1918, 1919 and 1920.

JOIN THE DAHLIA SOCIETY OF CALIFORNIA

I would be pleased to receive applications for membership in the Dahlia Society of California—$2.00 per year,—which includes privileges of the Society and bulletins.
